

On-Site Learning

Receive expert instruction and tailored curriculum, delivered to your facility or location of choice. Save time and money by training a small or large group with Global Knowledge's private, On-Site Learning delivery method. You'll get everything you need for seamless, On-Site training, including hardware, software, course content, and expert instructors. Their On-Site delivery option includes free course customization. Their course directors can work with you to rapidly and cost-effectively tailor a course to your needs. They can work with you to incorporate your templates and methodology, and even develop a case study specific to your organization. You can capture the uniqueness of your organization in the custom courseware that is built.

On-Site Learning delivery option will:

- Save you time and money (see our example)
- Provide content that aligns with your organization's culture and objectives
- Allow you to compress or extend the length of time you require for learning
- Provide you privacy—the training is conducted at your location of choice
- Encourage rapid skills transfer for your team

The Industry Leader in Customer Satisfaction and Most Recommended IT Training Provider

Global Knowledge has earned a reputation for exceptional IT and business training and a student experience that is acclaimed worldwide. In fact, in a recent independent IT Professional Advisory Panel study, Global Knowledge was ranked #1 in Customer Satisfaction and the Most Recommended IT Training Provider in the industry.

Their instructors leverage years of consulting experience and expert knowledge of Microsoft, Cisco, Red Hat, Oracle, networking, telephony, wireless, and project management technologies and methodologies. They draw upon this knowledge to teach key concepts and practical skills that can be applied as soon as students return to work. Their instructors are able to understand your specific projects and training requirements and then tailor the courses to fit your unique needs. They will maintain your organization's confidentiality after the training is complete.
